COVID-19 Student Policies and Expectations

Johns Hopkins' COVID-19-related policies are updated regularly.

Always refer online to Johns Hopkins Engineering Pre-College Residential Students COVID Policies for the most up to date information.

As the COVID-19 landscape continues to change, there have been a few updates to the guidelines for students participating in our in-person programs. The guidance below may change prior to or during the summer program, so please continue to check back for updates.

Vaccination requirements:

We strongly encourage students to be fully vaccinated and have at least one COVID-19 booster prior to arrival. Kindly upload your vaccination record into the JHU Vaccine Management System (VMS) portal.

Masking requirements:

Currently masking on campus remains optional. We highly recommend that students bring a supply of KN-95, N-95, or KF-94 masks with them to campus in case this guidance changes at any point during the program.

We want all our students to complete their summer without becoming ill with COVID-19. We respectfully ask that students wear a mask during their travels to campus and when they are in crowded public spaces for the weeks prior to arrival.

Negative test prior to arrival:

At this time, we do not anticipate requiring proof of a negative COVID-19 test prior to arrival.

Students who test positive during the program:

Commuting students who test positive during the program will need to isolate at home until they are cleared by JHU Student Health and Wellness to return to class.

We will work with students who must leave campus to provide academic support and transition them to online coursework until they are cleared to return.

What to bring

Please bring your laptop if you have one. You should also bring a pencil, pen, notebook, and calculator.

Library Use

Students participating in Engineering Innovation at Hood College will have access to the Beneficial-Hodson Library and Learning Center. Please note, however, that the library has limited hours during the summer.

All students will have access to digital materials through the Johns Hopkins library: <https://library.jhu.edu>.
